OPENED TODAY.

The Y. M. C. A. in Its New Home in the Hughes Building.

Secretary Grant Thomas of the Y. M. C. A. threw the rooms open to the public this morning. The association is now settled in its new home over Hughes' store and things are fast assuming a cozy home-like appearance.

Mr. Thomas has done most of the work of rearranging the building, putting in new partitions, planning the arrangement of the gymnasium and all the details of the change. The work is now practically completed and with the addition of a coat of paint to some parts of the gymnasium and the hanging of a portiere or two, the work will be complete.

The parlors in the new suite of rooms are much more cozy and cheerful than in old building. The gymnasium is much larger, with a better floor, and better arrangements for baths and closets. The dressingroom is more commodious also. The reading rooms and game rooms are not so large as in the former place but by taking out the reading table and substituting small oak tables seating four persons, the room is made not only more cheerful but more convenient.

The improvements will have been fully completed by two weeks and sometime during the first half of September a grand formal opening and house-warming will be given.

Mrs. Bonham, president of the auxiliary and other ladies prominent in the Y. M. C. A. work are at the seaside and until they return no steps will be taken. In the meantime the rooms are open to the members and public.

Some Improvement Notes.

G. F. West, the state street photographer has put a large addition to his gallery, much improving his facilities for work. Mr. West will also use the place as a residence.

E. B. Southwick, the contractor, is building a residence in North Salem for H. B. Plummer, ex-sheriff of Polk Co.

Young and Richardson are erecting a new residence on the corner of Winter and Marion streets.

G. M. Leese is building a new residence on his property in Yew Park. It is situated between the street corner and the Southern Pacific Company's tracks just beyond the city limits. It will be a fine building when completed.

Prof. W. I. Staley, has commenced erecting a cottage on his property in University Addition. Messrs. Young and Robertson are rushing the work along and will have it completed in a short time. The building will cost about $1200 to $1500 and will be a most comfortable dwelling.

The trustees of the Christian church have had their church building on the corner of High and Center streets thoroughly overhauled and repaired. The roof has been renewed and the interior generally refitted. The church will soon be re-opened for services, having been closed for the past two weeks.

A. Klein is erecting a new dwelling on his property on Oak street near the depot. It will be a modern dwelling with all conveniences, much resembling in outside appearance that of Judge Burnett, on High street. The foundation is now completed and work on the building proper will soon begin.

The old sidewalk across the street from Wade's store in North Salem, has recently been repaired greatly bettering the appearance of street and improving the comfort of the pedestrians who use the walk.

Orr Royal, the young bridge builder, is putting up a cozy residence for himself on Twenty-first street near Centre. When completed it will make him a substantial home.

W. S. Gilmore is building him a neat little cottage on his lot property, the corner of center and Twenty-first streets. When completed it will make Mr. Gilmore a most comfortable and convenient home.

DIED.

HATCH.-At the family home in Salem, Thursday, Aug. 25, 1898, at 1:40 p. m. of paralysis, Mr. P. H. Hatch, aged 87 years.

Father Peter H. Hatch was born in Maine December 26, 1810, and consequently would have been 88 years of age on his next birthday.

He spent his young manhood in his native state coming across the plains to Oregon in 1843.

He located at Oregon City and was for many years a prominent citizen of that place. He was married in 1847 to Sarah Loeys at Oregon City. In 1862 he moved to Salem where he has resided ever since, universally loved and respected.

Father Hatch followed the vocation of a house mover till late in life and his strong constitution and continued good health in the declining years of his life is well known to all. He ran the first boat between Oregon City and Portland, and the first jury case ever tried in the state was held at his house in Oregon City.

For many years Father Hatch has been an ardent and consistent member of the Methodist Episcopal church of this city and was a great temperance worker even using his influence for uplifting of his fellow men. His kindly greeting and fatherly interest was known and appreciated by all, young and old, and the residents of not only this city but of all the state will remember and cherish his memory as that of a man who had continually in his mind the desire to help his neighbors and make smooth the path of his fellow men.

He leaves behind him seven living children: D. C. Hatch of Portland; Mrs. A. H. Farrar, of Salem; E. T. Hatch, of St. Michaels; Payson Hatch, of Portland; Capt. Hatch now in Alaska; George Hatch of this city and Mrs. Isaac Manning, of Central America.

As yet no funeral arrangements have been made, as the children living at a distance have not been heard from. When the matter has been settled the public will be informed.

OPPOSED TO AN ALLIANCE.

United States and England Both Better Off Unfettered.

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.-Henry M. Stanley, the famous explorer, journalist and author, once an American citizen and now a member of the English house of commons, has placed himself on record as opposed to an Anglo-American alliance. He recognizes the fact that England and America are bound together by numerous ties and are yearly drawing closer together, but in spite of that fact he advises caution, and thinks it to the interest of neither nation to adopt a fettering and entangling alliance. In a letter to a friend here he expresses himself as follows:

"My opinion is that we must not be precipitate. The two nations are gravitating together, and true friendship cannot be forced. It is a slow process, requiring time. If either country were in distress that would be the proper time to breathe more life into that spirit of friendship and kindness which we know exists, and bring the reserved and proud peoples together. But today there is no necessity for either nation to think practically about the matter. One is fat and proud of the bank of England and its big navy. The other is in a quiver of delight over Manila and Santiago and the glorious heroism of Dewey, Schley and Shafter.

"The time is not suitable for speaking of alliance. If you Americans come out of that continent and take your share of the old world's concerns, you will know better what an alliance means."

AT MARION COURT HOUSE.

Proceedings at the Various Departments of the Capital County Seat.

A case was filed today in the county clerk's office of L. W. Updegraff, vs. T. H. Wilson, an action to recover $435 due on a note with interest at 10 per cent from March 22, 1897 to date together with $100 attorney's fees and the costs and disbursements of the action. Kaiser and Slater are attorneys for plaintiff.
